

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

Cocoa oils containing phytosterols and tocopherols are prepared by extracting the cocoa hulls from dried unfermented or fermented cocoa beans, micronized cocoa beans, or roasted beans with a solvent such as petroleum ether and then removing 5 the solvent. The cocoa oils are useful in foods, dietary supplements, pharmaceuticals, and cosmetics.